Utopias Special Blend Beer

Samuel Adams Utopias is brewed in small limited batches, each their own blend of different vintages. Utopias is brewed at a very high gravity using a wide variety of malted barley and a touch of maple syrup. It is then aged in a blend of scotch, bourbon, port and cognac casks from the award-winning Buffalo Trace Distillery. Samuel Adams Utopias actually began with experiments with aging and blending in barrels with the creation of Triple Bock followed by Millennium. These brews were tested by aging beer in barrels from various origins like bourbon, port, and cognac to discover each of their flavor contributions. Inspired by whiskey makers, Utopias takes the barrel aging process to another level by utilizing a variety of barrels and blending different vintages to create a truly unique taste experience.
